- We embrace a philosophy that providers must consider the impact of the patient's household. This approach is known as household-centered care
- Roseman University College of Medicine will prepare the next generation of providers to be socially accountable leaders in transforming the health and well-being of patients and communities

Apple Art

To amplify Idealism in the community, GENESIS created its Apple Art initiative. Partnering with local artists, GENESIS vehicles are themed with a focus on idealism and the social determinants of health such as housing, mental health, and health disparities.
